of the Sustainable Purchasing Leadership Council (SPLC)

1  MEMBER ROLES

1.1 Description of Role-Based Membership
1.1.1 Member organizations are represented at the SPLC by regular employees or retained consultants who participate in the work of the SPLC as "registered representatives."

1.1.2 A member organization’s registered representative may participate in SPLC activities in one of three Roles: (a) Purchaser; (b) Supplier; and (c) Public Interest Advocate. The type of staff that can participate in each Role is defined below.

1.1.3 Benefits and dues for each member are based on the number and type of Roles in which that member’s registered representatives apply to participate.

1.2 Description of Registered Representatives
1.2.1 All individuals participating in the work of the SPLC participate as registered representatives of a member.

1.2.2 Member organizations shall designate at least one (1) registered representative for each organizational role for which it is a dues-paying member.

1.2.3 Member organizations shall designate one (1) registered representative as the Primary Contact for each organizational role for which it is a dues-paying member. Additional registered representatives may be designated as Secondary Contact and Additional Contacts.

1.2.4 There is no limit on the number of registered representatives who may participate on behalf of a member.

1.2.5 No individual may be a registered representative for more than one member.

1.2.6 If a registered representative ceases to be affiliated with a member, the representative loses all rights of participation in the SPLC.

1.2.7 Retained consultants who participate as registered representatives of a member are required, in all SPLC-related activities, to represent only the represented member and are prohibited from representing their own organization or other organizations.

1.3 Purchaser Role
1.3.1 A registered representative may participate in the Purchaser Role if: (a) the member organization is a purchaser of goods or services; and (b) the registered representative has significant responsibility for guiding purchasing by the member organization; and (c) the registered representative does not have sales or marketing responsibilities related to the organization's products and services.

1.3.2 Examples of organizations that may have appropriate staff to participate in the Purchaser Role include: companies; governments; higher education institutions; NGOs; and member organizations representing purchasers (e.g., professional societies)

1.3.3 Examples of types of staff that are appropriate to participate in the Purchaser Role include: purchasing or procurement directors, officers, or managers; sourcing analysts, sustainable or environmental sourcing manager (without sales or marketing responsibility), facilities directors or managers, or managers of other operational functions without sales or marketing responsibility.
1.4 Supplier Role
1.4.1 A registered representative may participate in the Supplier Role if: (a) the member organization is a supplier of goods or services; and (b) the registered representative has sales or marketing responsibilities related to the organization’s products and services, such as product design, marketing, sales and service delivery.

1.4.2 Examples of organizations that may have appropriate staff to participate in the Supplier Role include: distributors; manufacturers; Tier 1+ suppliers; service providers (including professional services); certifiers; standards developers; member organizations representing suppliers (e.g., trade associations).

1.4.3 Examples of types of staff that are appropriate to participate in the Supplier Role include: product developers; marketing directors and managers; product line directors and managers; sustainability managers (with sales or marketing responsibility).

1.5 Public Interest Advocate Role
1.5.1 A registered representative may participate in the Public Interest Advocate Role if: (a) the member organization is an advocate for the public interest; and (b) the registered representative has significant technical expertise in how institutional purchasing affects those aspects of the public interest for which the Member organization is recognized as an advocate based on its stated mission; and (c) the registered representative does not have sales or marketing responsibilities related to any products and services, including standards or certifications, offered by the organization.

1.5.2 Examples of organizations that may have appropriate staff to participate in the Public Interest Advocate Role include: social & environmental non-governmental organizations that do not offer a label or certification; charitable foundations; policy think-tanks or agencies; academic institutes; professional schools.

1.5.3 Examples of types of staff that are appropriate to participate in the Public Interest Advocate Role include: program managers and directors; subject matter specialists and experts.

1.6 Multiple Roles
1.6.1 Any member organization may apply to have registered representatives in more than one Role.

1.6.2 Any organization applying for participation in more than one Role must provide at least one (1) registered representative for each Role.

1.6.3 The registered representative for each Role of a member organization must meet the eligibility requirements for a registered representative for that Role.

1.6.4 No registered representative may occupy a Purchaser Representative seat on a committee or working group that is developing guidance for a product or service category for which the represented member is a supplier in the marketplace. In such a case, a member representative in the Supplier role may apply to participate in the committee or working group, provided that the member has paid appropriate dues to support such participation.

1.6.5 Dues for members with registered representatives in multiple roles are defined in the current Dues Schedule.

2 MEMBERSHIP TERM, EXPIRATION, AND RENEWAL

2.1 Term
2.1.1 Membership is annual beginning at the time payment is processed for the membership.
2.2 Expiration
2.2.1 Membership expires exactly one year after payment is processed and membership term begins.

2.3 Renewal
2.3.1 Payment to renew membership, no matter when payment is processed, will extend membership one year from expiration date NOT payment date.
2.3.2 Memberships expired beyond 90 days will become inactive and cannot be renewed.
2.3.3 Prior to expiration of all memberships, SPLC staff shall endeavor to send notice of renewal to the primary contact.¹

2.4 Ineligibility
2.4.1 No organization may become a member of SPLC (or renew as a member) if the member organization’s name or domain name infringes on SPLC intellectual property rights.

2.5 Separate Membership
2.5.1 Membership dues for organizations other than federal and state government are calculated for individual organizations. Determination as to whether memberships should be separate is based on the organizations’ EIN numbers.
2.5.2 Even though two companies may be a part of the same parent organization, if each has an individual EIN number, they should create and utilize separate memberships.
2.5.3 Individual federal agencies should create and utilize separate memberships.
2.5.4 Individual state agencies should create and utilize separate memberships.

3 DUES AND REFUNDS
3.1 Deductibility
3.1.1 A portion of membership dues is tax deductible, as specified in the current Dues Schedule approved by the Board of Directors.

3.2 Refund of Dues
3.2.1 A refund for the full dues amount will be issued if membership is cancelled within 48 hours of beginning as long as no benefits have been used.
3.2.2 No refund will be issued for the cancellation of membership beyond the 48-hour window.
3.2.3 No refund will be issued for the revocation of membership.

4 COMPLIANCE WITH MEMBER CODE OF CONDUCT
4.1.1 Each member of SPLC must agree to the following Code of Conduct:
As a member of Sustainable Purchasing Leadership Council, I hereby commit to support the mission of the SPLC and to support leadership in sustainable purchasing as defined by the SPLC.
4.1.2 As part of the SPLC’s Code of Conduct, each member of SPLC must respect the need for SPLC to hear equally from all member roles defined in the Membership Policies and Procedures prior to making major decisions. Failure to respect the need to hear equally from all member roles is grounds for revocation of membership as described in the SPLC’s Bylaws.

¹ SPLC uses the last email address and telephone number provided to SPLC for the primary and secondary contact.
