Hi
From: mrjustindillon@gmail.com
Date: April 22, 2008 3:13:00 PM PDT
To: Steve Jobs <sjobs@apple.com>
Subject: quick question

Steve -

Does my iPhone use tantalum mined by slave labor?

(I'm sitting in a board room in SF with a group of tech guys who believe you are aware of this - and because of your public company restrictions will not respond to this email - prove them wrong)

From: Steve Jobs <sjobs@apple.com>
Date: April 22, 2008 6:56:00 PM PDT
To: mrjustindillon@gmail.com
Subject: Re: quick question

I have no idea. I'll look into it.

Steve

Sent from my iPhone
Slavery Footprint

How many slaves work for you?

What?  Slaves work for me?

Find out  Take the survey
“Who do we buy from?”
POOR VISIBILITY
GOOD vs PERFECT
WHO DO WE BUY FROM?
“The ultimate impact businesses can have is through the business itself.”

Michael Porter
(Harvard Business School)
Our Mission

Place the best responsible sourcing intelligence into the hands of the world’s most influential purchasers.
FORCED LABOR RISK DETERMINATION & MITIGATION
Global Slavery Database
54000 goods, services, & commodities
Supplier Intelligence

Supplier A

Purchase 1 UNSPSC

manufacture risk

sub-manufacture risk

commodity risk

CROATIA IMPORTS 11% OF ITS COTTON FROM TURKEY

11%
Supplier Intelligence

Supplier A

Purchase 1 UNSPSC

manufacture risk

sub-manufacture risk

commodity risk

Map of India with cities and states labeled.
5 Years Forward

Networked Economy

Data ➔ Optics ➔ Leverage
1.6m companies
UK Supply Chain Bill
New FAR requirements
California Transparency Act
Congressional Legislation
Consumer Demand
thanks